Item 5. Press Release

On June 23, 1994, the Registrant issued the following press release:

MADERA, CALIF., JUNE 22 - Heublein Inc., a U.S. subsidiary of International Distillers and Vintners, the drinks sector of Grand Metropolitan PLC, and New York based Canandaigua Wine Company, Inc., announced today that they have signed a letter of intent outlining the terms under which Canandaigua will acquire Almaden and Inglenook wines from Heublein, as well as wineries in Madera, Escalon, Paicines and Reedley, California. The transaction is subject to negotiation of a definitive agreement, the receipt of appropriate regulatory approvals and board approvals.

Under the proposed transactions, Canandaigua would also acquire a grape juice concentrate business run by Heublein at the Madera winery, as well as Heublein's minority interest in the Madera Glass Company. For Heublein's fiscal year ended Sept. 30, 1993, net sales (excluding federal excise taxes) related to the assets and business to be sold were approximately $235 million.

John McGrath, Chairman and Chief Executive of IDV and Director of Grand Metropolitan, said: "This sale is an example of our long term strategy of focusing on our premium brands, while reducing our cost-base, so as to position us for continued future growth.

"The sale of Almaden and Inglenook and the wineries associated with these brands allows us to concentrate on our portfolio of vintage and varietal brands of California and imported wines. We can now provide even stronger support for our highly successful brands such as Beaulieu Vineyard, Blossom Hill and Glen Ellen."

Marvin Sands, Chairman of the Board of Canandaigua said: "This acquisition will significantly improve Canandaigua's already strong position as the number two wine producer in the industry by adding to our portfolio Almaden and Inglenook, the third and sixth largest selling wine brands in the United States." Sands added, "This acquisition is consistent with our goal of achieving consistent earnings performance through selective acquisitions of strong brands and the integration of acquired businesses with our core business to achieve economies of scale."

International Distillers and Vintners is the world's largest wine and spirit business by volume. Heublein, based in Farmington, Connecticut, produces, imports and markets more than 100 brands of wines and spirits, including Beaulieu Vineyard, Glen Ellen, Blossom Hill and Mouton Cadet wines, Smirnoff vodka, Jose Cuervo tequila, Black Velvet Canadian whisky and Christian Brothers brandy. The company's domestic wine business is managed by the San Mateo, Calif.-based Heublein Wine division under the direction of Christopher P. Mottern, Executive Vice President.

Canandaigua Wine Company, headquartered in Canandaigua, New York, is the second largest wine producer, fourth largest marketer of imported beers and eighth largest producer and marketer of distilled spirits in the United States. The company's principal brands include Corona beer, Richard Wild Irish Rose wines, Paul Masson wines, Taylor California cellars wines, Cook's champagne, St. Pauli Girl beer, Cribari wines, Manischewitz wines, J. Roget champagne, Barton gin and vodka, Tsingtao beer, Ten High Bourbon and Montezuma tequila. The company's wine business is managed by Chris Kalabokes, Senior Vice President and President of the Wine Division, headquartered in Canandaigua, New York.

The Registrant further indicated that the transaction is expected to close at the end of July, 1994.
